

NHS Gaming Club2021 - Present

In my role as Vice President, I adeptly oversaw the daily functions of the Gaming Club. From orchestrating engaging weekly meetings to coordinating casual play sessions and competitive tournaments, I curated an inclusive environment that catered to a diverse range of gaming interests and skill levels. Collaborating with the president, we successfully established the NHS Gaming Club esports organization, elevating our engagement to inter-school district tournaments and clinching an impressive second-place finish.

Beyond the numbers, my leadership provided a welcoming haven for 142 members. This inclusive space became a melting pot of individuals from varied backgrounds and interests, fostering meaningful connections through shared gaming experiences.

ROP Class - Pharmacy Internship2023 - Present

Participated in a transformative pharmacy internship organized by the prestigious Coastline Regional Occupational Program (ROP). During this immersive internship, I gained practical, hands-on knowledge in the pharmaceutical domain while being mentored by seasoned professionals.

I specialized in drug compounding, following tight safety norms and precise dose standards while taking on critical duties. This attention to detail was critical to the pharmacy's successful operation and demonstrated our commitment to guaranteeing patient well-being.

In addition to my technical skills, I was a valuable asset for healthcare professionals. I presented critical information about medication usage, potential side effects, and adherence standards while participating in patient education campaigns. This proactive approach improved patient comprehension and adherence, demonstrating my dedication to improving healthcare outcomes.

NHS Pride of the Pack Award

Earned recognition for successfully navigating demanding coursework while simultaneously holding leadership roles on campus, all the while embodying Northwood High School's core values of compassion, mutual respect, and integrity.

The President's Volunteer Service Award

The President's Volunteer Service Award (PVSA) is a recognition program in the United States that honors individuals and groups for their volunteer service. I qualified for the President's Volunteer Service Award by completing the

The President's Volunteer Service Gold Award is typically presented to individuals who have demonstrated a significant commitment to volunteer service over a 12-month period. This prestigious award is part of the President's Volunteer Service Award program, which is administered by the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) in the United States.

To qualify for the Gold Award, volunteers must meet specific criteria, including the number of service hours contributed within the designated time frame. The program recognizes volunteers of all ages and backgrounds who engage in a broad range of community service activities. The Gold Award is one of the highest levels of recognition within the program, indicating a substantial and sustained commitment to making a positive impact through volunteerism.
